Vinyl Siding Institute Participates in Third Annual Millard Fuller Legacy Build

Certified Vinyl Siding and Certified Trainers help ensure long-lasting homes

September 29, 2011 – Washington, D.C. – The late Millard Fuller, co-founder, with his wife Linda, of The Fuller Center for Housing and Habitat for Humanity International, created a legacy of providing quality housing for those in need. The Vinyl Siding Institute, Inc. (VSI), is pleased to support his mission by donating certified vinyl siding and providing Certified Trainers for the third annual Millard Fuller Legacy Build October 17 – 21 in the Legacy Acres subdivision of Minden, La.

Volunteers from around the country are expected to build eight new homes and rehab seven others during the five-day build. To help ensure the homes are built to last, a dozen Certified Trainers and VSI staff will contribute their time and expertise to show the volunteers how to properly install vinyl siding and accessories. All of the certified vinyl siding and accessories used for the eight new homes and one rehab undergoing exterior improvement will be provided by VSI member companies.

“VSI is excited to help continue Millard’s mission of building quality housing for those in need by again participating in this year’s build,” said Jerry Y. Huntley, VSI President & CEO, who will be one of the volunteers. “The VSI Certified Trainers on site will show volunteers proper vinyl siding installation techniques. These techniques will help ensure that the siding lasts and remains beautiful for years to come.”

Staying true to Millard Fuller's legacy of quality, the vinyl siding certified through the VSI Product Certification Program is independently verified to meet or exceed the industry standard for performance; each Certified Trainer has completed a "train the trainer" course and passed an examination on his/her training skills and knowledge of the proper installation techniques.

VSI has actively participated in builds with The Fuller Center for Housing since Millard and Linda Fuller founded it in 2005. For more information about the 2011 Millard Fuller Legacy Build, visit <http://fullercenter.org/millard-fuller-legacy-build/2011>.
