Dream it and Do it with Designing Style.

Developed in collaboration with experienced architects, designers, builders and vinyl siding manufacturers, Designing Style showcases a variety of popular architectural styles – and shows how to bring each to life with the lasting beauty of durable vinyl siding, architectural trim and accessories.

Designing Style is filled with photographs and illustrations, along with descriptions of a vast range of vinyl siding, trim and accessories to help you specify for a particular style or design. Brief histories of the featured architectural styles are included, as well as a history of vinyl siding. VSI Certification Programs for vinyl siding and its installers are covered, too.

Designing Style: A Guide to Designing with Today's Vinyl Siding is a valuable reference and specification tool filled with information, inspiration and insight.
